As a consumer that is paying for the wonderful XM radio service, I am further "turned off" by the "traditional" radio providers (NAB) attempt to stifle the competition through the 04-160 petition to the FCC. There is a reason that those of us that are subscribers to XM are willing to pay for the service. That reason is choice. We choose to turn off the poor quality and programming of the "traditional" radio. By supporting the NAB's efforts to control their monopoly, the FCC will be limiting that choice.
